1. The deadline for completion of land reform in Kwangsi has been set for the end of 1952. As of August, 17 hsien had completed one phase of land reform.¹ Paise Hsien has been designated as the last hsien in which land reform is to be completed.
2. Over 80 percent of the staff of the Kwangsi provincial government has been mobilized to aid in land reform work.² Among the high Communist officials who have been assigned to land reform work are: CH'EN Man-yuan (陳漫遠), vice chairman of the Kwangsi government; LI Chu-li (李 離), second secretary of the provincial militia office; and MO Wen-hua, assistant political commissar of the Kwangsi Military District.

- 25X1A 1. [REDACTED] Comment. This is at variance with a radio broadcast from Nanning of 24 July 1951, which stated that land reform had been completed in 35 hsien in Kwangsi.
- 25X1A 2. [REDACTED] Comment. A concentration upon land reform work may be of special interest, since it constitutes one of the most effective deterrents to guerrilla activity.
- 25X1A 3. [REDACTED] Comment. According to [REDACTED] MO Wen-hua was in December 1950 political commissar of the 15 Army Group and mayor of Nanning. He has also been active in planning assistance to the Democratic Republic of Vietnam, according to [REDACTED]. The most detailed information is to be found in [REDACTED].
